... und sandte sie einem befreundeten Musikproduzenten in Berlin. Dieser erkannte die Eingängigkeit der Melodie, vollendete sie und kreierte – in Absprache mit dem Künstler – eine Rock/Pop-Arrangement mit interessanten Gitarrenlicks sowie 2 House-Remixe für den Dancefloor. Bereits kurz nach der Veröffentlichung landete der Titel „Get The Sun In Your Head“ in den deutschen und italienischen Amazon Download-Charts, in Deutschland sogar in den Top10.

äußerst positives Presse-Echo & Feedback von Musikredakteuren

German artist and entrepreneur, Gliffo, used to play the saxophone until his full-time job subtracted all the time he needed to exercise his passion. Now, some short clips of Gliffo got stuck in his head, which he then sent to Berlin-based music producer Jörg Sieghart, who is also a multi-instrumentalist. They subsequently elaborated on the melody and put together the pop-rock single, entitled "Get The Sun In Your Head", which was released on the 15th of February. The song is about opening your mind, forgetting your sorrows and just letting yourself smile again.

It's a positive track, and possibly a good, especially right now with all the crazy stuff that is going on in the world. I respect and appreciate that very much, and I think they nailed that feeling on this record. It's a simple, it's authentic, like Gliffo and his collaborators play to their strengths on this record.

What makes Gliffo unique is simply how he approaches his music. He and Jörg Sieghart have an affection for using layered soundscapes paired with rich harmonies, crystal clear lead vocals, banging drums, crunchy rock guitars and all other sorts of interesting aural aesthetics.

Their music sounds kind of like a sonic ride to another galaxy. A fun trip that you should absolutely be taking part in. The video also magnifies my appreciation for this duo and the production crew's creativity and opened my eyes to the high commercial possibilities for a single in the indie market.

The overall sound of "Get The Sun In Your Head" is upbeat and jolly in the best way possible. The pop-rock vibe combined with colorful vocals makes this track a sublime summer release perfect for long drives or party busting back when everybody can sing along, as this is a good-vibe track that will unite people.

Gliffo comes across as genuine, unassuming, and seems to be having a great time singing the song, as well as performing in the video. Obviously the German entrepreneur has not lost his passion for music since his saxophone playing days.

Instrumentally speaking, "Get The Sun In Your Head" relies heavily on its rhythmic components and a groove-focused impact, to underscore the catchy melody. Musically...

Gliffo Releases Hit Single "Get The Sun In Your Head"

Gliffo's Song "Get The Sun In Your Head" Has Hit the German and Italian Amazon Charts With It's Contagious, Good Vibes.

(Landslud, Germany)

Gliffo hit the German and Italian Amazon Charts with his debut single "Get The Sun In Your Head". The song has been placed in audio demonstrations by the award-winning HFI developer Christoph Schürmann who has won 70 international awards in audio engineering.

kreative Ideen & gute Vernetzung in der Musikwelt: Top-Studiomusiker!

Durch die ersten Erfolge hochmotiviert sprudeln die Ideen bei Newcomer Gliffo gerade so über. Produzent Jörg Sieghart, der selbst auf eine lange Reihe illustrier Zusammenarbeiten (u.a. Richard Palmer-James / Ex-Supertramp, Keith Tynes / Ex-Platters uva.) rückblicken kann, koordiniert die richtigen Studiomusiker, wie den „Schlagzeug-Papst“ Manni von Bohr.

Für die Studioproduktion der 1. Single, konnte u.a. Markolf Ehrig (1. Violonist beim weltbekanntem Berliner Konzerthausorchester) gewonnen werden. Für eine weitere Single, die im Herbst erscheinen soll, sorgt Benny Hiller mit seiner 4 Oktaven-Stimme für Gänsehaut! Kein Wunder, dass der als internationale Koryphäe bekannte „HiFi-Papst“ Christoph Schürmann (ausgezeichnet mit über 70 internat. Hi-Fi-Preisen) Gliffo für Audio-Vorführungen nutzt.
